Siam Future Development (SF)

Improving yield from existing projects

We maintain our positive view of SF and reiterate a BUY call with a TP of THB8.15 (PBV 2x). Despite the launch of only one project this year and slow economic recovery, SF earnings will grow strongly. The company is still able to increase rental rates as planned while occupancy rates should improve further due to new tenants. The renovation plan for some existing projects will not only expand the rental space but also increase the rental rate. Selling or leasing the landbanks near Mega Bangna and in Bangyai will bring additional upside to our projections.

Higher profit from its own projects and Mega Bangna. 2Q15 recurring profit is expected to expand strongly YoY, driven by increasing average rental and higher occupancy rates after the new tenants filled the unoccupied space in the Esplanade and Pattaya projects. Profit sharing from Mega Bangna will also increase due to a rental rate hike of 8% (three-year anniversary) and a tight occupancy rate of 99%.

Enhance revenue by project renovation. SF plans to renovate 1) Market Place Toong Mahamek by removing the existing building, renting more land nearby and developing the new building, which will increase the rental space to 12,000 sq m from 3,000 sq m. The project is expected to start in 2016 and finish in 2017. 2) Petchkasem Power Center, which has around 44,000 sq m of rental space. SF will buy back 10,000 sq m from HomeWork and convert it retail space, which will generate better yields. 3) SF will renew the contract and renovate the Market Place Thonglor Soi 4 (3,600 sq m) by expanding the rental area. The renovation of SF's existing projects will not only expand rental space but also increase rental rates.

Launch one new project this year. SF will launch one project at LPN Township Rungsit in 3Q15 with rental space of 5,925 sq m. This project is expected to contribute THB40m/year or 2-3% of total revenue. Mega Rungsit is expected to be opened in the next four to five years, while the project in Sri Racha is unlikely to take place due to the failure of the feasible study.

Risks. Delay of new projects/lower occupancy rates/lower-than-expected new rental rates. However, the risks are limited by economic recovery.

Utilise benefit of the landbank. Two corporations are considering leasing the 50-rai of land next to Mega Bangna, which is still under negotiation with SF. SF also plans to sell or develop the small community on the 50-rai of land in Bangyai. If it chooses to sell the land, we estimate gains of at least THB300m.
